Students participate in classroom instruction and activities.

Classroom feedback & informal assessment

Teacher determines additional instruction/activities needed for many students.

All students participate in one or more formal assessment(s).

Students receive feedback on assessment results. Score goes into the grade book.

Some students may still not have demonstrated understanding of course/grade standard.

Student-initiates reassessment.

Student completes requirements established by the teacher, (i.e. initial homework/practice completion, individual or group tutoring session, journaling, additional reading or practice problems) in order to better understand course/grade level standard.

Teacher-initiates reassessment.

Teacher provides additional instruction/activities to help student better understand course/grade standard.

Individual or small group of students participate in reassessment opportunity.

Repeat process if necessary.

Start process over – begin teaching new course/grade standard(s).